and Variety Media, LLC

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
CENTRAL DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

PENSKE MEDIA CORPORATION, a
Delaware corporation; VARIETY
MEDIA, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company,

Plaintiffs,

vs.

FREEPLAY MUSIC, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company, and DOES 1
through 5, inclusive,

Defendants.

Case No.:

COMPLAINT FOR:

(1) DECLARATORY
JUDGMENT [28 U.S.C § 2201]

(2) VIOLATION OF
CALIFORNIA UNFAIR COMPETITION LAW (CAL.
BUS. & PROF. CODE § 17200, ET SEQ.)

Plaintiffs Penske Media Corporation (“PMC”) and Variety Media, LLC
 (“Variety”) (collectively, “Plaintiffs”) allege as follows:

INTRODUCTION

1. Defendant Freeplay Music, LLC (“Freeplay” or “Defendant”) chose its name in an effort to mislead the public that the music on its website is available for “free.” In fact, when a consumer enters a simple Google search for “free music,” Freeplay is one of the first websites to come up. Upon entering Freeplay’s homepage, the consumer is met with large text which prominently states that Freeplay offers “FREE MUSIC FOR YOUTUBE AND MORE.” After luring in unsuspecting consumers with the promise of “free” music, Freeplay then encourages these consumers to use the music, including in their own YouTube videos. After the consumer follows Freeplay’s advice, Freeplay then traps the consumer by demanding that the consumer pay outrageous “license fees” for the use of music that was supposedly “free.” Unlike most content owners, once a consumer uses Freeplay’s music in a fashion Freeplay deems to be “illegal,” Freeplay does not simply issue a takedown notice and request that the consumer remove the content. Instead, Freeplay sends the consumer a shakedown demand, threatening litigation if the consumer does not pay Freeplay an outrageous “license fee.” These shakedown demands are typically made by TuneSat, LLC – ostensibly a third party “monitoring” the web for supposed infringement on behalf of Freeplay. In fact, both TuneSat and Freeplay were founded by Scott Schreer, the current CEO of both. Both TuneSat and Freeplay coordinate with one another in this deceptive scheme perpetrated on content creators. Furthermore, in making these outrageous demands, Freeplay refuses to identify to the target of the shakedown all of the allegedly infringing content. This is not how a business that wishes to legitimately license and protect its content would behave. But Freeplay is not really in the content license business. Freeplay conducts its business in a very different manner – a “bait and switch” followed by extortion.

ALLEGATIONS COMMON TO ALL CAUSES OF ACTION

2. Defendants are in the business of providing media content to consumers. They do so, in part, through the operation of a channel on the media sharing website YouTube. Through this YouTube channel, Defendants provide multi-media news content to users of YouTube.

3. Freeplay is also in the business of providing online media content to consumers. As its name inherently suggests, Freeplay markets itself as offering

1 “free” music for download to consumers. The reality is far different. Freeplay is
2 actually a for-profit enterprise. It entices unsuspecting members of the public to 3 download its music, by claiming the use of such music is “free” – including,
4 specifically, the use of such music on YouTube. After the consumer has 5 downloaded the music and used it in virtually any manner, Freeplay contacts the 6 consumer and demands a license fee for the allegedly unauthorized use of 7 copyrighted material. Had Freeplay engaged in truthful advertising, and been 8 upfront to the consumer regarding these “license fees,” it is highly doubtful the 9 consumer would have utilized this “free” music in the first place.

10 4. On information and belief, Freeplay’s business model is structured 11 upon this misleading “bait and switch” scenario. On information and belief,
12 Freeplay generates a significant portion of its revenue through its aggressive
13 license fee demands, coupled with threats of copyright infringement litigation.
14 Consumers, caught completely unaware, are squeezed into paying Freeplay –
15 typically for far more than Freeplay would have charged for a license in the first
16 place. Consumers, including struggling artists and musicians, drawn to Freeplay
17 by the promise of “free” music, generally lack the financial wherewithal to 18 seriously challenge Freeplay’s shakedown tactics.

19 5. Freeplay’s deception of consumers is woven throughout its highly 20 interactive website. Freeplay encourages consumers to download its “free” music 21 and use the music in their own YouTube videos. Freeplay even offers a tool on its 22 website to assist consumers in the creation of new videos using Freeplay’s music.
23 However, in or about October 2014, Freeplay unilaterally altered its confusing and 24 contradictory “terms and conditions” of use – prohibiting the free use of its music
25 on YouTube. On information and belief, following this sudden change, Freeplay
26 began issuing monetary demands to numerous consumers who had uploaded
27 media on YouTube – media that allegedly contained music subject to Freeplay’s 28 copyright.

6. Moreover, following October 2014, Freeplay began issuing aggressive demands to numerous operators of YouTube channels – entities that had never subscribed to Freeplay’s service, downloaded Freeplay’s music, or otherwise agreed to any of Freeplay’s terms and conditions.

7. Defendants seek a declaratory judgment of non-infringement of alleged copyright(s) asserted against Defendants by Freeplay. Defendants further seek a judgment against Freeplay for its violation of the California Unfair Competition Law, in that Freeplay's business practices constitute unfair competition under California law.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

(For Violation of Unfair Competition Law [California Business & Professions Code § 17200, et seq.])

22. Plaintiffs re-allege herein by this reference each and every allegation contained in paragraphs 1 through 21, inclusive, of this Complaint as if set forth fully herein.

23. Plaintiffs are informed and believe, and based thereon allege that Defendant has committed and is continuing to commit unfair, unlawful, and fraudulent business practices and acts constituting unfair competition against Plaintiffs as defined by California Business and Professions Code Section 17200, by, among other things, exploiting deceptive business practices through the operation and marketing of its highly interactive website.

Accordingly, Plaintiffs are entitled to restitution of all such money, property, profits, and other benefits.

25. Plaintiffs are informed and believe, and based thereon allege, Defendant's unfair and unlawful acts as described above are a serious and continuing threat to Plaintiffs' reputations, goodwill, and financial health. If Defendant is allowed to continue its wrongful acts, Plaintiffs will suffer further immediate and irreparable injury, loss, and damage. Plaintiffs are further informed and believe, and based thereon allege that, in the absence of a preliminary and permanent injunction as prayed for below, Defendant and its agents will continue to violate Plaintiffs' rights by engaging in the conduct alleged above.
